

Audere Audio Privacy Policy

Effective Date: May 07, 2016

At Audere Audio we value personal privacy just as you do and have created this privacy policy to explain what information we collect and how it is used.

When you visit our website and do not purchase or log-in, our web server does not have access to personally identifiable information about you. It knows and maintains a record of your IP address and uses cookies to record session information. Aggregate information is used to improve our web site performance, system administration, and business analysis.

Information Audere Audio collects:

We collect information you provide directly to us when you order products, make requests or contact us for information. For example, we may collect your name, company name, shipping and billing address, email address, phone number, and any comments or information you wish to provide to facilitate our service to you.

How Audere Audio Uses Information:

We use this information to provide you with products you have ordered and to service your requests. We do not share this information with outside parties except to the extent necessary to complete your order. We use email addresses to respond to email we receive and to provide order status updates.

We do not collect your credit card information; the purchase transaction is handled by a secure third party. We use industry standard security measures to protect our data and yours from fraud or misuse.

We do not sell, rent or provide your personally identifiable information to others outside of our company.

We do not send out a newsletter but may on occasion send our customers an update about our company or products and provide you with the opportunity to opt-in or opt-out from receiving this occasional contact from within your account.

Cookies:

We use cookies on the Audere Audio site to track user activity and to provide certain functionality. These cookies are not used by Audere Engineering, LLC for any advertising purposes. Cookies are used to facilitate your login, your viewing and updating of your account information including email subscriptions, and maintaining your cart contents. There are some additional third-party services used for monitoring and improving services provided by Audere Engineering, LLC, including but not limited to tools like Google Analytics for statistical and site performance monitoring and YouTube for enabling display of video content within our site. These third-party services are used only to enhance our site, and the cookies they use are controlled by them.

On request, we will provide you with a description of the information that we maintain about you and accommodate all reasonable requests.

We may change this Policy from time to time in which case we will revise the Effective Date, shown above. In some cases we may provide you with a more prominent notice (such as posting a statement on our homepage or sending an email notification).

If you have questions about our privacy policy, please email sales@audereaudio.com or contact us at 541-867-6878
